Passage B - Planning a Step-Free Journey

A A route on a map does not tell every passenger whether a journey will be possible. For a wheelchair user, a parent with a pushchair or a person who cannot manage stairs, the details inside a station matter. Transport for London uses the term step-free access for stations where lifts or ramps, or both, help people move between the street and the platform. This is a practical part of public transport, not an extra service. TfL also offers Tube maps in large print and audio for people who have difficulty reading standard print.

B TfL publishes a Step-free Tube guide for the Tube, DLR and London Overground. The guide shows stations where people can travel step-free between street, platform and train. It also identifies some places where passengers can change between lines step-free. A map cannot remove every difficulty, however. At some stations, a small step or gap remains between the train and platform. The guide uses symbols to describe the size of these spaces so that people can consider a suitable destination with better information.

C The symbols are not a promise that every train can be boarded in exactly the same way. TfL's guide gives ranges for the step and the gap. Some stations have mini ramps to bridge a platform gap, and some passengers may need to request boarding assistance. This information is useful because the most direct route is not always the most suitable route. A person may choose a journey with an extra change if it offers step-free access at the stations that matter.

D Planning also depends on current conditions. Lifts, escalators and stations sometimes have planned work or unexpected disruption. TfL's Journey Planner and TfL Go app can suggest routes with step-free access and adapt suggestions when there are line or lift closures. The app also provides live information about routes and station facilities. Checking this information before travelling does not guarantee a perfect journey, but it can help prevent a passenger from beginning a route that has lost an important lift connection.

Passage B - Planning a Step-Free Journey

E Step-free access is part of a wider effort to make travel easier. TfL reports that all 41 Elizabeth line stations have step-free access, while step-free access is also available at many Tube and London Overground stations. These figures demonstrate progress, but they do not explain every journey. A station may offer access from street to platform but still have a step or gap at the train. Clear maps, staff assistance and information about the platform all help people understand what kind of access is available.

F A transport service is useful when passengers can understand it and use it for their own journeys. Speed and a central destination are not enough for someone who cannot manage stairs. TfL's guides can create clearer choices and reduce uncertainty. People can compare stations and facilities before they travel, then choose a route that fits their needs. Clear station information is therefore part of an accessible service, alongside the lifts, ramps and staff assistance that make journeys possible.

Speaking Homework 2

Book 3 Unit 3

Questions 1-5 Build sentences

Put the word groups in order. Use each group once. Do not add words or change word forms. Record each full sentence.

1. Start with "The new bus lane".
more comfortable, The new bus lane, the journey, has made

2. Start with "This is".
near the station, street, This is, the least noisy

3. Start with "Drivers".
this morning, Drivers, can avoid, the flooded road

4. Start with "The council".
traffic outside the hospital, The council, measured

5. Start with "A clear map".

Questions 6-10 Complete the replies

Read each situation and follow its clue to complete the reply. Record the whole reply.

6. Situation: There are too many cars to move quickly. Choose heavy or empty.

Friend: Why is the bus so slow today?

You: The traffic is very _____.

7. Situation: A new route is more direct. Choose more direct or most direct.

Friend: How is the new route different?

You: It is _____ than the old route.

8. Situation: Your group has compared three stations and chosen the best of all three. Choose more convenient or most convenient.

Friend: Which station is best for the group?

You: It is the _____ station.

9. Situation: A planner finds the answer. Choose fixed or figure out.

Friend: What can the planner do?

You: She can _____ the problem.

10. Situation: A signal changes traffic movement. Choose influence or trouble.

Friend: What can signals do to traffic?

You: They can _____ how traffic moves.

Speaking Homework 2

Book 3 Unit 3

Questions 11-15 Order and speak

Put sentences A-C in order. Record the opening, then read all three sentences in the correct order. Do not read the letters.

11. Explain a new route after road repairs.

Opening: The roadworks changed my usual journey.

A	That route is longer but less crowded.
B	To get around that closure, passengers can use the bus route behind the park.
C	The main road is closed this week.

12. Recommend a meeting place for an older passenger.

Opening: My neighbour needs a comfortable way to travel.

A	Because the lift offers that easier access, I recommend meeting there before the train arrives.
B	The station lift is near platform two.
C	It is more convenient than the stairs.

13. Explain what your traffic survey showed.

Opening: Our class collected information near the library.

A	These results could help the council decide when a crossing officer is needed.
B	The second count was higher than the first.
C	We counted cars in two ten-minute periods, one at three and one at four.

14. Explain a weather-related transport problem.

Opening: Rain changed the journey home yesterday.

A	To warn those cyclists, a sign could help them avoid the flooded path.
B	Because that part of the path was under water, cyclists used the road instead.
C	Water covered part of the cycle path.

15. Compare two routes to a hospital.

Opening: A visitor asked for the best route to the hospital.

A	However, that faster option leaves the visitor farther from the hospital entrance.
B	The best choice therefore depends on how far the visitor can walk.
C	The underground is faster than the bus at rush hour.

Questions 16-18 Follow the model

Use the model to help you express different content in 4 connected sentences. Write key words, then record your answer.

16. Describe a changed journey after roadworks.

Model: The main road near my home is closed this week. I take a bus behind the park instead. The route is longer, but it has less traffic. I can still arrive at school on time.

17. Recommend the most convenient option for a visitor.

Model: For a visitor with a suitcase, the lift is the most convenient choice. It is beside platform two. The stairs are faster for some people, but they are not easy with bags. I would meet the visitor by the lift.

18. Report a short transport observation.

Model: Our class counted traffic outside the library for ten minutes at three and again at four. More cars passed during the second count. The road was also noisier then. The council could use these observations when planning crossings.

Questions 19-20 Follow the model

Use the model to help you express different content in 4 connected sentences. Write key words, then record your answer.

19. Explain a weather-related travel solution.

Model: Heavy rain covered part of the cycle path yesterday. My brother used the bus instead. It was less direct, but it kept him away from the flooded road. A warning sign could help other cyclists choose early.

20. Compare two routes using more than one criterion.

Model: The underground is faster than the bus at rush hour. However, the bus stop is closer to our house. The bus is also cheaper for my family. We choose the underground only when we are late.

2. Start with "Passengers".

change trains, at Central Station, each morning, Passengers

3. Start with "The guide".

a direct bus, The guide, to the stadium, recommended

4. Start with "A map".

A map, clearly, shows, the quickest route to the clinic

5. Start with "We can".

the busy tunnel, after work, We can, avoid

Questions 6-10 Complete the sentences

Complete each sentence. Follow the word choices or clues in each question.

6. We are passengers transferring to another service. Choose change or move.

We _____ trains at Central Station.

7. Choose straight or direct, before bus.

Take the _____ bus to the stadium.

8. Choose recommendation or recommend, for advice.

I _____ the ferry.

9. Choose avoid or leave.

We can _____ getting stuck in traffic by using the bridge.

10. Compare three routes. Choose quickest or quicker, after the.

This is the _____ route.

Questions 11-15 Choose the sentence order

Read sentences A-C. Tick one sequence for each question.

11. Choose the coherent order for the transport situation.

A The assistant directs her to a level entrance beside the pier.
B A visitor arrives at the harbour with a large suitcase.
C She asks where to catch the ferry with that suitcase.

☐ B-A-C ☐ B-C-A ☐ C-B-A

12. Choose the coherent order for the transport situation.

A Passengers affected by this cancellation can change buses at the library.
B A sign at the library shows where to catch the connecting service.
C The direct bus to the stadium is cancelled today.

☐ A-B-C ☐ B-A-C ☐ C-A-B

13. Choose the coherent order for the transport situation.

A They then follow the new signs to the correct platform.
B The train now stops at a different platform.
C This change is announced before passengers reach the stairs.

Questions 16-18 Follow the model

Use the model to help you express different content in 4 connected sentences. Write your own answer with different details.

16. Imagine a route has changed. Explain how a visitor can still reach a museum. Use change buses and get off.

Model: The direct bus to the pool is not running today. Visitors can catch the number 4 bus to the library. They should change buses there and get off beside the pool. This route takes longer but still reaches the entrance.

17. Recommend a journey for a visitor with a suitcase. Include a boarding point and a reason.

Model: I suggest the ferry for a visitor staying near the harbour. It leaves from a pier beside the hotel. The level entrance is useful with a suitcase. The visitor can get off near the city museum.

18. Imagine a station sign confuses visitors. Describe the difficulty and suggest clearer information.

Model: The sign near the platform only shows a number. Some visitors do not know which destination it serves. I suggest adding the destination below the number. This would help them check the service before boarding.
